

SPARROW TREE SQUARE

Train Travel

The only way of catching a train I have ever discovered is to be late for the one before.

– G. K. Chesterton, English writer

All literary selections, quotations, and images contained herein are in the public domain unless otherwise specified. All other material © 2016 Megan Friel.

Table of Contents

Poems

I like to see it lap the miles by Emily Dickinson	1
From a Railway Carriage by Robert Louis Stevenson	3
Adlestrop by Edward Thomas	5
What the Engines Said by Francis Bret Harte	7

Story

from The Engine Burglar by E. Nesbit	10
---	----

Connections

First Transcontinental Railroad	15
American and British Rail Travel Terms	16

Activities

Making Luggage Tags	17
Learning Railroad Songs	18

Resources

Further Reading	19
Guide to Illustrations	20

I like to see it lap the miles

Emily Dickinson

I like to see it lap the Miles -	1
And lick the Valleys up -	2
And stop to feed itself at Tanks -	3
And then - prodigious step	4
Around a Pile of Mountains -	5
And supercilious peer	6
In Shanties - by the sides of Roads -	7
And then a Quarry pare	8
To fit it's sides	9
And crawl between	10
Complaining all the while	11
In horrid - hooting stanza -	12
Then chase itself down Hill -	13
And neigh like Boanerges -	14
Then - prompter than a Star	15
Stop - docile and omnipotent	16
At it's own stable door -	17

EMILY DICKINSON (1830—1886) was an American poet. She wrote over 1,800 poems, fewer than a dozen of which were published during her lifetime.

A Road in Auvers After the Rain by Vincent van Gogh